Writing a Dissertation is not the same as writing a report or a theme paper. It is slightly different in that you will be writing a view point of your own called an "argument".

You should argue your point of view and give references (cite the points of view with a footnote) failed to address this point, using the footnote help located at the top of your Microsoft word paper. You can view this important step at <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HKrhTMHsli0> or read about it at <http://office.microsoft.com/en-us/word-help/insert-or-create-footnotes-andendnotesHA101854833.aspx>

Refer to your references and place the footnote at the end of each reference. Your citation will appear at the bottom of the page like this:

8. In a 1998 interview, she reiterated this point even more strongly: "I am an artist, not a politician!" (Weller 124).

○ Use your own wording as much as possible. Just copying multiple references for your Dissertation may result in a low grade or even causing your Dissertation to be returned to do over. Reference work should be done in MLA format. The font should be Times New Roman font, size 12.

○ Your Grade for the Dissertation will be within the following range: 85% to 100% Anything below an 85% drops your grade below a 3.0.

A degree cannot be given with a grade Below 3.0.

you should redo the entire Dissertation for a higher grade. All Students should use spelling and grammar check. <https://www.grammarly.com/office-addin/downloading> or <https://support.office.com/en-us/article/check-spelling-and-grammar-in-office-5cdeced7-d81d-47de-9096-efd0ee909227>

There is no excuse for misspelled words. Sentence structure allowances may be made with students who speak English as another language.

○ You will notice that this paper uses footnotes giving reference to Eleanor Wakefield. If you will use the same reference over and over, you can use the word "ibid" which signifies the reference is already given prior.

○ Your Dissertation should be spell checked, double spaced lines, one-inch margins, top, left, bottom, and right. Please avoid the use of abbreviations for books of the Bible.

○ Make sure you have more than the minimum amount of words required for your Dissertation. Do not count words in the footnotes. "There are several vital elements to any successful college Dissertation. This Help sheet will define those elements and show you how to put them together using an outline. Following this format will help you keep your thoughts (arguments) organized and get your essay underway.

Elements of a Dissertation Introduction: Usually an introduction starts broad and narrows down to your specific topic, ending in the Dissertation. This is your opportunity to establish why readers might be curious about your general topic, catch their attention, or put your Dissertation in context.” Your introduction should end with a clear, specific statement, which will tell readers exactly what your paper will be arguing. Each body paragraph will directly and obviously support your Dissertation.

Body Paragraphs: A Dissertation utilizes body paragraphs, and these will be the arguments, evidence, or topics that support your thesis.

Topic Sentences: Each body paragraph will begin with a topic sentence which introduces its topic. All of the information in that paragraph will be clearly and logically related to that topic sentence, which in turn should obviously relate to the Dissertation.

Support: You use arguments, data, facts, analysis, quotes, diagrams and illustrations, anecdotes, examples, details, etc. to support your topic sentences and flesh out your body paragraphs. A good rule of thumb is to have at least three points to support each topic sentence.

Transitions: An effective Dissertation will show the connection between paragraphs with transitions. These can be the final sentence of each body paragraph or can be integrated into the next topic sentence with transition words.

Conclusion: A conclusion should wrap up your dissertation but should not introduce new information or arguments. It should begin with a sentence that looks a lot like your Dissertation Introduction to summarize the general points of the paper as a whole, and then draw your paper neatly to a close.
